LIFE AND OTHER STORIES

La quarta dimensione di un luogo è nello spirito dell'abitare e di chi sa osservare: pervade ogni ambiente e lo carica di un significato esclusivo e irripetibile. Le variabili sono molteplici, e intervengono esaltando e smussando la risposta di ciascuno dei cinque sensi: come l'irregolare matericità di una parete su cui la luce del giorno e l'ombra di una pianta giocano a sottrarsi e concedersi spazio, creando una decorazione involontaria e sempre diversa, ma anche così coinvolta nella bellezza dello spazio. L'immagine di una stanza, spontanea fusione dei toni percepiti tra superfici, arredi e accessori, ci rimane impressa come sensazione e sfumatura di benessere e accoglienza: piuttosto che l'esatta memoria dei colori e dei materiali che la compongono, resta il ricordo di una unica luminosità, allineata alle frequenze della bellezza. D'altronde, l'eleganza è nell'armonia e nell'equilibrio degli elementi che ci circondano, coinvolti in un'atmosfera di sensuale avvolgimento: nella quale la sensazione prevale sulla ragione, e lo stare bene coincide con il partecipare proprio a questa armonia. Gli elementi di arredo Tacchini seguono questa danza con una ritmica fatta di leggere pause e delicate sovrapposizioni: suggerendo possibili declinazioni di come vivere lo spazio senza alterazioni e forzature, ma in naturale continuità. Una sorta di punteggiatura sottintesa che non chiude e conclude alcun dialogo, piuttosto si apre a una diversa dimensione: quella inaspettata 'quarta', privilegio di chi sa osservare.

LIFE AND OTHER STORIES

The fourth dimension of a place is in the spirit of living and of those who know how to observe. It pervades every environment and charges it with an exclusive and unrepeatable meaning. The variables are many, and they intervene by enhancing and smoothing the response of each of the five senses: like the irregular materiality of a wall on which the daylight and the shadow of a plant play at escaping and giving themselves space, creating an involuntary and always different decoration, but also involved in the beauty of the space. The image of a room, the spontaneous fusion of tones perceived between surfaces, furnishings, and accessories, remains impressed on us as a sensation and nuance of well-being and welcome: rather than the exact memory of the colours and materials that compose it, the memory of a single luminosity remains, aligned with the frequencies of beauty. On the other hand, elegance is in the harmony and balance of the elements surrounding us, involved in an atmosphere of sensual enveloping: sensation prevails over reason, and feeling good coincides with participating precisely in this harmony. The Tacchini furnishing elements follow this dance with a rhythm made up of light pauses and delicate overlaps: suggesting possible declinations of how to experience space without alterations and forcing, but in natural continuity. A sort of implied punctuation that does not close or conclude any dialogue but rather opens to a different dimension: the unexpected 'fourth', the privilege of those who know how to observe.

Il sole, dal sapore caldo e avvolgente, entra da piccole finestre e pervade ogni luogo: anche il più segreto, quello dell'anima.

With a warm and enveloping taste, the sun enters through small windows and pervades every place: even the most secret, that of the soul.

WOOL COLLECTION

Le cose non dette racchiuse nei puntini di sospensione sono quegli istanti in cui il pensiero da prosa diventa poesia: svelando per sottrazione la parte più intima dei nostri sentimenti senza filtri e mediazioni. E il design è fatto anche di puntini di sospensione: momenti in cui l'estetica diventa un di cui mentre la forma coincide con la sostanza e nulla potrebbe essere altrimenti. Alcuni progetti sono più importanti di altri perchè racchiudono un pensiero non manifesto appena svelato quasi sussurrato: sono quelle pagine che nella storia del design sono dedicate ai classici autentici punti di riferimento da cui si dipanano i mille rivoli di altre possibilità. Così è per il progetto Wool di Tacchini nello svolgimento di un pensiero che si snoda tra momenti di sottrazione e memoria della tradizione: con il recupero dell'impiego della lana proveniente da realtà di piccoli allevatori e destinata al macero da inserire all'interno della propria linea di imbottiti in un perfetto equilibrio tra innovazione e conservazione. Inoltre sostenibilità e circolarità diventano l'aspetto virtuale di tutto il processo: in una sorta di gioco di riflessi dove la bellezza di un'idea si amplifica all'infinito. Non solo lo stesso imbottito è sostanza e forma racchiuso e nascosto nel tratto del disegno ma assoluto protagonista del progetto stesso.

WOOL COLLECTION

The unsaid things enclosed in the ellipsis are those instants in which thought from prose becomes poetry: revealing by subtraction the most intimate part of our feelings without filters and mediations. The design is also made up of suspension dots: moments in which aesthetics becomes a reference while form coincides with substance, and nothing could be otherwise. Some projects are more important than others because they enclose an unmanifest thought that has just been revealed, almost whispered: these are those pages in the history of design that are dedicated to the authentic classics of reference points from which thousands of streams of other possibilities unravel. This is how it is for the Wool project by Tacchini in the development of a thought that winds between moments of subtraction and memory of tradition: with the recovery of the use of wool coming from realities of small breeders and destined for pulping to be inserted within its own line of upholstered furniture in a perfect balance between innovation and conservation. Furthermore, sustainability and circularity become the virtual aspect of the whole process: in a sort of game of reflections where the beauty of an idea is infinitely amplified. Not only is the upholstery itself substance and form enclosed and hidden in the stroke of the design but the absolute protagonist of the project itself.
