

LACIVIDINA AT SALONE.MILANO 2022

"THE NICE PLACE TO BE"

June 7-12

Hall 16 | Stand A23-B18

The pleasure of rediscovering the comfort of a personal space where to feel at ease in any place and at any time.

The new LaCividina collections transform any private and public environment into "The Nice Place to Be": organic and cozy shapes develop naturally around the new needs of the person, who becomes once again the protagonist of design planning.

Hall 16 will host also LaCividina best sellers: the modular seating systems Suiseki, designed by Andrea Steidl; Couchette, by LucidiPevere; Node+ by Ben van Berkel/UNStudio and an extraordinary "promenade" with the iconic Osaka sofa.

The new LaCividina collections

TWIRL, single sofa

Designed by Gordon Guillaumier for LaCividina

A new partnership between Gordon Guillaumier and LaCividina has given rise to the Twirl single sofa, which brings together the features of a seat, a desk and a screen in one simple, swirling irregular shape. It can serve as a cosy private alcove and caters to a freer, less cluttered vision of working environments.

Lines that are soft on the eyes and to the touch

Everything revolves around the small support surface, which comes with electrical and USB sockets. It is the starting point for a slender spiral that wraps around the desk and the seat, acting as both a backrest and a partition.

The sweeping curves are just as soft in their shape as they are to the touch and they complement the comfort offered by the generous size of the seat and the backrest with built-in lumbar support. It marks a first step into the use of soft, flexible materials that are supported by an imperceptible wooden framework.

Your own private space, wherever you are

Standing 132 cm tall, the Twirl panel can completely conceal a seated user, thus providing the ideal visual and acoustic conditions for people to work with unparalleled privacy and concentration.

All of this means that people can find secluded spaces even in large open-plan environments, making Twirl the ideal choice for everywhere from public places to homes.

Two versions and endless combinations

The sofa is available with the spiral starting on either the left or the right, providing the scope for vibrant, original arrangements while also meaning it can be used ergonomically by both left- and right-handed people.

Finally, the table is exquisitely finished: solid wood and marble shine the spotlight on the seat as the focal point, while also bringing out the best of the formal, sophisticated design.
